Burglars Blow Lumber Co. Safe At Orland Park

Safe burglars blew a safe at the I.N.R. Beatty Lumber Co. office in Orland Park over the week-end.

The burglary took place sometime between closing time Saturday and Monday morning. Approximately $75 in cash was taken plus a quantity of hardware and a portable radio.

Altho the blast was sufficient to rip off the door and cause some damage to the trim in the office it apparently went unnoticed because no one called police.

The burglary was discovered Monday morning by the bookkeeper, Earl Reisch, when he opened the office. He immediately called the manager, Walter Mager, and Cook county police at the Homewood station were notified.

Capt. Stephen Barrett and Sgt. Ray Hederman made the investigation. Entry was gained thru a window and nitroglycerine, known as 'soup' in the yegg trade, is said to have been used to blow the safe.

This is the first report in sometime of a safe burglary in the area in which explosives were used. Recently the trend has been to drilling and working the tumblers and in several instances the steel sheeting on the front of the door has been peeled off.

This is the third time the Beatty company safe at Orland has been rifled. Three years ago burglars opened the safe there on Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12 and 10 nights later, on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, it was again burglarized. On those occasions, however, the safe door was drilled and no explosive used.

The Cook county crime laboratory was called in on the investigation of the burglary this past week-end.

For the past five years Kempe has been administrator of Riverside hospital at Toledo and also during his stay there served as a lecturer on hospital administration at the University of Toledo. Seek Blood Donors

Louis C. Malay, of 194th and 116th street, Mokena who suffered severe wounds when accidentally shot recently, is in need of blood. He has been given nine pints of blood and the costume is to replace the amount taken from the blood bank with double the amount taken out. So far six persons have donated a pint of blood each. More donors are badly needed and Mr. and Mrs. Malay would appreciate anyone offering to give blood. Mr. Malay remains in critical condition.

Goblins, Witches to Have Gala Night Monday

The annual Halloween parade for Mokena school children is to be held next Monday night, Oct. 31.

This is the night when witches and goblins have a holiday and as a means of keeping them somewhat in hand, a jig parade is planned for Halloween.

All Mokena youngsters of pre-school as well as grade school age, are invited to participate. They will wear costumes in keeping with the occasion and prizes are to be awarded those whose costumes are judged best.

The Mokena Amvets Woman's auxiliary is sponsoring the parade and is providing the prizes.

There will be nine prizes given by the auxiliary, three in each of the three divisions, the pre-school youngsters, the group in the first four grades and those from grades five thru eight.

In addition to these awards the following South Wolf road business places will give out candy, apples and some silver dollars—the Shopping Bag, Mokena branch of the New Lenox Lumber Co., Ronan Radio Center and the National Construction Co.

Judges for the costumes will be Mrs. Mildred McMillian, Mrs. Mary Steinhagen and Jacob Barzen.

The parade will form on the Mokena public school grounds and will move off at 7 o'clock led by the Amvets Auxiliary Clown band. It will pass to the front st., and thence west to Wolf rd., and then south to the V.F.W. hall. The prizes will be awarded inside the hall and following their distribution the youngsters will go outdoors where a bonfire, where the sprites, elves and goblins will roast wieners and marshmallows. This part of the program will be conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

This affair is always enjoyed by the young at heart as well as the young in years and always draws a large number of spectators as well as participants. It also gives the youngsters a chance to work off surplus energy that, otherwise might be directed into channels that could result in property damage or injury.

PARTY AT FRANKFORT

A Halloween party is also planned at Frankfort for the children of that community and Lincoln Estates. The affair will be staged in the Frankfort school gymnasium, beginning at 7 o'clock and lasting until 9:30.

The party is sponsored by the business men of Frankfort and all youngsters in the community are invited to attend and be in costume. Movies will be shown and there will be games and of course, refreshments.

Warn Against Confusing 'Peeper' With Pranksters

Because of recent forays by a "Peeping Tom" in the Sunny Acres area and the approach of Halloween with its attendant excursions that sometimes leads youngsters into trespassing, authorities ask householders and youthful celebrants to use care and caution and thus avoid possible tragedy.

Some of the householders in Sunny Acres have armed themselves against appearance of the peeping prowler, and tempers and nerves are pretty well frayed. It would be a tragic thing—it was pointed out—if some Halloween prankster were mistaken for a prowler and as a consequence shot or beaten.

It also was pointed out that it behooves youngsters to use some judgment too and refrain from sneaking around and making noises at doors or windows. Incidentally, there was a story in circulation this week that the "peeper" had been identified and apprehended and then released. Investigation shows this report to be false. The "peeper" is still at large and his identity is still a mystery.

New Lenox Man Heads Epilepsy Fund Campaign

F. N. Elliott, New Lenox druggist has been appointed area chairman for the "Little Christmas Town" campaign of the Illinois Epilepsy league, it was announced today.

Joliet, Mokena area and New Lenox residents who are able to "tithe" some of their leisure and serve as volunteers in this humanitarian cause are invited to get in touch with Mr. Elliott at New Lenox 2-441.

The sale of "Little Christmas Town" advent calendars is the basis of the league's unique fund raising campaign. The calendars are imported from Europe and made exclusively for the league. The league sells them for $1 with all profits going directly to aid the cause of epilepsy victims.

The giving of advent calendars is a charming old world custom which deepens a child's appreciation for the meaning of Christmas. A storybook village in a winter wonderland sprinkled with snow is printed in full color on a 27-inch folding card. Quaint doors and shutters are numbered from Dec. 1 to 24. When every door and window is opened and the calendar is placed before a light, the entire village seems to glow from within.

Seek Recruits, Instruments For Frankfort Band

The Frankfort Band Parents have had an election but the office of president is still to be filled. It was explained that attendance at the meeting at which officers were to be selected was so small that it was decided to defer election of the president until later.

The other officers were elected, however, and they are: Viola Sievert, vice president; Arlene Heisner, treasurer and Lucille Rahm, secretary.

The director, David Kozelka, told the parents that he has many plans for the band. One of his aims, he said, was "to prepare the band members for the Lincoln-Way band so they can take the places of the graduating musicians without loss of time, and for appearances in parades and other public occasions."

More instruments are needed and members too, it was explained. Persons who have baritone, trombone, upright altos or other instruments they wish to sell may contact Mr. Kozelka or Miss Viola Lankenau, principal at the school. The telephone number is 4721.

The band is open to pupils from the fourth grade up and parents interested in having their youngsters enrolled may call the director or Miss Lankenau.

FRACTURES ANKLE

Mrs. Marvin Smith, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Semmler and who is a linotype operator in the Semmler Newspaper office at Mokena, fell last Wednesday and injured her left ankle. 5 L-W Students to Compete for Scholarships

Five outstanding seniors at Lincoln-Way high school will compete in the new, multi-million dollar National Merit Scholarship Program. Principal A. Hunter Chapman announced today. These high ranking local students will be aiming at some 200 four-year college scholarships that can carry up to full tuition and living expenses, depending upon the financial need of each winner. Winners will be chosen on the basis of their ability to profit from a higher education.

Karen Brockman, John Fish, Rudy Guzik, Sharon Moede, and Robert Olson are the seniors and they took a preliminary screening test at the high school Tuesday as the first step. The competition is open to all secondary schools, and is the largest program of its kind. These seniors were chosen on the basis of the scores which they made on the Illinois statewide tests last year.

An Educational Plumb

The scholarship program is conducted by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, an independent, non-profit educational organization set up by grants of $20,500,000. Aimed at the discovering and helping the most talented students in the country, the merit program permits the winners, known as Merit Scholars, to choose any accredited college or university and any course of study.

Some 800 runners-up in the competition will be awarded certificates of merit and their names will be announced to all colleges and other scholarship agencies as students of unusual ability.

Colleges chosen by the Merit Scholarship Corporation offer its facilities and services without charge to organizations and individuals interested in offering scholarships and conforming to its standards. Such scholarships will bear the name of the sponsoring company.

SCRAP PAPER DRIVE

The Mokena Lions club will conduct its regular monthly paper and scrap collection tonight and persons who have magazines, old paper, rags or metal scrap to contribute are asked to set it out in front of their homes, and leave their porch lights turned on. If persons have scrap or paper they are unable to move to a place along the curb all they have to do to get the stuff carried out is to leave their porch light on and when the collecting crews see a light and no scrap they go to the door and make inquiries. Money received for the sale of this material will be used to pay the rent of the Mokena library.

The other officers were elected, however, and they are: Viola Sievert, vice president; Arlene Heisner, treasurer and Lucille Rahm, secretary.

Lincoln-Way Senior Is Grand Champion Of Milk Drinkers

Allen Rasmussen, of Frankfort, a senior at Lincoln-Way high school, was not to be outdone by the milking shorthorn he showed at the International Dairy Show in Chicago. The cow took first, third and fifth ribbons in various events. And Allen wound up as the grand champion milk consumer of the show.

In the three days the show ran Allen drank 87 six-ounce heakers of milk, with each and everyone of them quaffed as completely as the bottoms-up rule prevailed. Now 87 six-ounce flagons of milk run to a total measurement of four gallons, four ounces.

His best day's effort was 37 cups, which was four cups more than the previous record set in 1954 at the Wisconsin state fair. Thirty-seven cups is just two ounces shy of seven quarts, a substantial amount of milk to down in the course of a day. And one must remember that Allen had other things to do besides nestle up to a dairy bar and drink milk. And he had to eat too.

He was tied for the day's intake by Ken Hoffman, of Earlville, who also drank 37 six-ounce cups of milk, but Kenneth couldn't keep up the pace, and over the three-day route Allen distanced him and all other competitors in decisive fashion.

Mokena Lions to Entertain for Girls, Mothers

The Mokena Lions club entertained the boys of the community last spring and now it is planning a special party for the girls in the form of a teenage style show.

The affair is to be held next Wednesday night, Nov. 2, at the Mokena public school. All girls in the community from 10 years old up are invited and urged to bring their mothers. The affair is to begin at 7:30 o'clock.

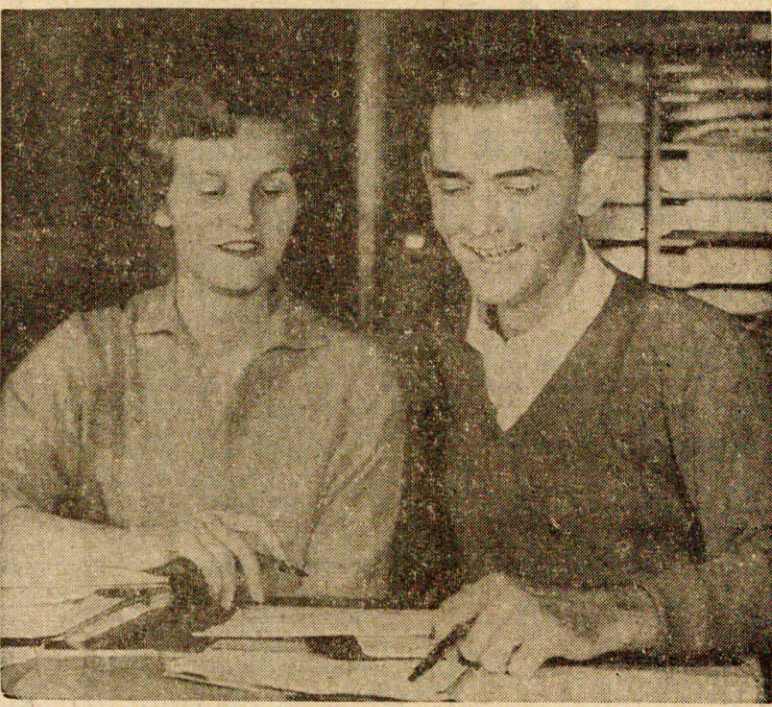

A Patricia Stevens' model is to give a demonstration and talk on good grooming and a style show, with emphasis on designs for teen-agers, is to be given by a Joliet store.

There will be free gifts and prizes distributed and refreshments served. Walter Spiewak is chairman of the committee in charge. Everything about the affair is free, as far as those attending are concerned.

The committee in charge is striving to get a large crowd out for the event—which is billed as mother and daughter night.

On Homecoming Committee

Planning for Homecoming at the University of Illinois—the campus where the Homecoming idea was born in 1910—are Gay Bonham, Aurora, and Sheldon Hauck, New Lenox, members of the homecoming committee. This year's celebration is this Saturday, Oct. 29, weekend of the Illinois-Purdue football game. Other activities of the colorful weekend include crowning of the homecoming queen, student stunt show, student theater presentations, dinners, and reunions. The University of Illinois, opened in 1868, has more than a quarter million alumni.

Discuss Future Plans

A committee from the Lions club executive board, appointed by the club president, Ray Westlund, met with the executive board of the Mokena Civic association to discuss plans for next year's homecoming. William Elaba, Walter Spiewak, and Mr. Lehmann represented the Lions. The civic group was made up of George Bills, Mrs. Bernice Mann, Virginia Sherwood, Arthur Shoop and Charles Swanberg.

No decisions were reached but it was reported there appeared to be a general agreement on broadening participation in future homecomings. Instead of two organizations dividing the net proceeds after the major portion is given to the park, it was felt that all organizations in the community that might be interested should be invited to participate under an agreement that 50 per cent of their net should go to the park and the remainder to the participating organization.

The Lions and Civic Association would sponsor the project as in the past, it was said, and would give 50 per cent of the net from the lunch stand, pop corn concession, the queen contest and games to the park and keep the rest.

"At first glance," says the Mokena By-Lions—the publication of the Lions club—"it looks as tho the 'cream' is being taken but as sponsoring clubs they have to foot all costs, administration, promotional, entertainment, etc."

There was some talk of changing the location of the project from down town to the park. Other meetings will be held for further talk before any decisions are reached.

Awarded Holiday Trip

Mrs. Clarence (Audrey) Carlson, West 127th st., Lemont, has been awarded an all-expense, seven-day trip to Miami as the winner in a contest sponsored by the Cooper-Shop Ford Co., of Frankfort. The contest was launched with the opening of the Frankfort agency. Cooper-Shop took over the Ford agency formerly operated by A. C. Bauch.

On Tuesday, Nov. 1, at Springfield, the eighth and last road letting of the season will be held on Governor William G. state highway construction program for 1955.

Bids will be opened on 38 road and bridge building projects in 16 counties, according to Edwin A. Roosenstone, director of public works and buildings. The estimated total cost of this work is about ten million dollars.

"Nothing Sells Groceries Like Newspapers"

"Nothing sells Groceries like newspapers," so stated H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea Co., speaking before the 71st annual meeting of the Inland Press association held last week in the Drake hotel in Chicago.

"We have built our business with newspaper advertising—when I joined National Tea Co., in 1945, a little over 10 years ago, we were doing less than $100 million in sales annually and spending less than a half-million a year for advertising, of which newspaper advertising was not a very substantial portion, because they were spending a lot of money for fancy frills under the name of advertising that made a few people happy, but did not produce real sales results.

"Last year we spent approximately 5 1/2 million dollars for advertising in the eight branches of our company to produce over $520 millions in sales. A quick computation of these advertising costs and sales results will show you that our advertising expenditure for 1954 was about ten times greater than ten years ago and our sales were more than five times greater than ten years ago.

"In the ten year period, 1945 through 1954, we have spent $24,300,000 for advertising and sales promotion to produce a total of 3,091,000,000 in sales. This year our advertising costs will rise close to $6 million, and our sales will increase to about $575 million, so you can see that our average advertising cost, or investment, as I prefer to call it, will still be close to the 1 per cent bracket in proportion to sales which we believe to be just right for our business—provided, of course, that this money is spent in the right media.

"The right medium for us, in my opinion, and our organization agrees wholeheartedly, is newspapers. We honestly and sincerely believe, as I have stated many times, that newspaper advertising has built our business. That's why we spend, and have spent over the past ten years, under my management, 66 per cent of our advertising dollars for newspaper advertising.

"Now why do we say this—what is the reason for our deep-seated attitude in favor of newspaper advertising? We are now window washing, our figures prove concretely that we do as we say—and here are a few reasons why we think as we do in appraising the value of newspapers towards helping us build our business.

"In the first place, our business and the newspaper business are closely related, because we both start from scratch with the dawn of every day. There is something fresh about today's newspapers, just as fresh as the foods we sell. Yesterday is gone, and forgotten, in both our business and ours—and we both start anew with each day!

"And then we have a patriotic

Public Aid Figures for Illinois Reflect Continued Good Times

Garrett W. Keaster, executive secretary of the Illinois public aid commission, reports that the total recipient load of the five public assistance programs continued to decline in August for the fifth consecutive month.

Keaster said the rolls dropped to 274,365 persons in August, 407 fewer than in July. August expenditures were $12,648,648. Average grant per recipient for the total case load of the five programs came to $46.20 as compared to $45.66 in July.

The general assistance recipient load dropped to 86,693 persons. The main decline occurred in Cook county where 1,206 persons were dropped from the rolls or transferred to other assistance programs. Expenditures for this program in August came to $3,203,456. This is about $476,717 more than a year ago. Average grant per recipient was $36.95 in August 1955.

Change of Law Helps

Old age assistance rolls dropped by 454 to 94,891 persons. This is 5,677 fewer than in August 1954 and 10,299 less than in August 1953. This decrease in the face of rising population in this age group, Keaster said, indicates the importance of amendments to the old age and survivors' insurance program which increased benefits to workers and their survivors and increased the amount of allowable earnings. Expenditures were $5,873,479, an average of $62.20 per recipient.

The recipient load of the blind assistance program dropped to 3,536 persons, 16 less than in July and 123 less than in August 1953. Expenditures were $241,483, an average of $68.47 per person.

duty in common to keep our nation strong—both mentally and physically. Again we are working as a team, with you supplying the news as we supply the daily bread, and as a result Americans are the best read, best fed people in the world!

"And of importance as it runs in my mind, is the cooperation we get day by day, week by week, from our friends in the newspaper business. Of course, we probably ask for more than we expect to get, but look at this volume of newspaper clippings, accumulated so far this year, from just a few hundreds of newspapers in which we advertise. These are the clippings on our press releases and news stories, some financial, some on personalities of our organization, some on human relations—but all of them making National Tea Co. a real live living part of the community instead of just another "Big Business"—and, of course, the readers believe what they read when you say it much more than anything we might claim for ourselves in our advertising columns.

Then there's all the help and cooperation we get from your food editors—bless their hearts. They're a great bunch of girls, and they really know what's cooking! The food articles, sections, recipes, and meal planning suggestions appearing in your publications editorially are the best advertising we in the food business can ever hope to get, and they bring results. They actually help us sell. Just one food editor mention a competitive food chain, or make a wrong statement, and you'll find out how much even the men read these food articles. That kind of advertising we cannot buy for love nor money, we know, but maybe that's why it's so good—it's priceless!

"Our final reason for our faith in newspaper advertising, both national and local, is that it brings results—the kind of results you can measure on the cash register—or in stock movement—in actual sales results—not next week, or next year, but as soon as the newspapers hit the streets. That's real action advertising, and that's the kind we like to put our money in.

"Now to deviate from advertising as such, and get back into the business, I think I know a little more about, I will try to answer a few of the questions your members have asked me to answer during this discussion:

"First, regarding the expansion plans of National Tea Co. As you probably know, our new and latest acquisitions have been in Port Huron, Michigan, and Memphis, Tennessee. These two regional chains will give us added volume of about 25 million dollars. The Memphis branch will serve some 40 to 50 stores in Tennessee, Arkansas, and Mississippi having a sales volume of approximately $1 million a week. Another branch will be opened in Davenport, Iowa, next March, which will serve about 29 stores we have now, and an additional 21 locations are being planned within a 150 mile radius of the Quad-Cities. This branch should also provide another $1 million sales volume weekly. This places us in all or part of 14 mid-western states ranging from the Canadian border down to the Gulf of Mexico, and from the Dakotas over to Ohio."

It is fashionable among leftist business baiters who have no sympathy with our system of free enterprise to attack businessmen in government—NAM President Henry G. Ritter 3rd.

Passenger automobiles being driven by employees of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare on state business will henceforth be required to observe a 65 miles per hour speed limit by day and a 55 miles per hour limit by night. Trucks and buses must observe a 45 miles per hour limit.

Adoption of these highway safety measures was announced by Dr. Otto L. Bettag, department director. The speed limits are the same as those proposed for enactment by Gov. William G. Stratton in his message to the 69th General Assembly at the opening of the 1955 legislative session.

The Department of Public Welfare uses about 450 automotive vehicles, most of them state-owned.

Orland Woman's Club Learns Oil Is Sometime Orlon

The Orland Park Woman's club held its first meeting of the fall season last week at the Palos Community Center Foundation with a good attendance. Mrs. Karl Ekberg, the president, was in charge.

Miss Dorothea Kercher, representing an oil co., presented "The Magic Suitcase" which contained articles that were primarily made from oil. Her suitcase was a by-product of oil. Nylon, orlon, dacron, dynel and acetate, wearing apparel come from oil. Also solid cologne, lip rouge, polythelene bottles, even the tips on matches.

A demonstration of a piece of cloth dipped in a dye solution of two colors, after being rinsed, came out from the magic suitcase, red, white and blue. The explanation was that the cloth was three different kinds, cotton, acetate and orlon, the acetate did not take the dye.

It was interesting to learn that many household articles, cosmetics, etc. are derived from oil.

MORE TAXES, LESS PAY

An offer of lower pay for over time would not interest American employees. Every citizen admits the fairness of the idea behind overtime pay. Extra work, extra production... certainly should be rewarded, and it is in the workday life of business and industry. Nobody expects the worker to accept a smaller wage for the added hour of effort than he does for each hour of his regular working day. But government forces citizens by penalty surtaxes -- to earn less for working more. Penalty taxes work out so that rates reach 30 percent at $6,000 taxable income and 50 percent at $16,000 of taxable income. Laws and regulations are the main function of government, and we count on their being fair and workable. Government codes ought to be at least as fair, in taxes or anything else, as the citizens themselves are.

A researcher at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station of the University of Illinois says tests have shown that rye is usually the highest yielder in terms of dry matter for hay or silage, followed by winter barley, wheat and oats. Claim Traffic Courts Can Make -- or Break Safety Programs

How traffic courts can improve accident prevention will be the subject of a five-day conference now in progress at the Northwestern university school of law.

Attending will be judges, prosecutors, justices of the peace, attorneys, and court clerks from throughout the midwest.

The conference is offered by the law school in cooperation with the Northwestern traffic institute and the American Bar association. It will be held in the law school building at 357 E. Chicago ave., Chicago.

Objectives of the meeting are twofold, according to Ray Ashworth, acting director of the traffic institute:

—To improve court handling of traffic violators.

—To further cooperation between the court and police officers.

"The traffic court is the area of greatest contact between Americans and their judicial system," said Ashworth. "It can either make or break a community's traffic safety program. By efficient and impartial handling of traffic cases, the court can become a bulwark of our democratic system—or it can sow the seeds of cynicism and indifference."

Among numerous subjects to be discussed by legal and scientific experts will be administrative problems of traffic courts, uniform enforcement policies, drunken driving and speeding, and the use of radar and other enforcement devices.

NAM Brands Discriminatory Tax Rates as "Economic Folly"

By restricting saving and investment, discriminatory income tax rates limit the nation's economic development, the National Association of Manufacturers declares in a new study of the effects of the present federal tax structure.

Attempts to use a "progressive" income tax (present individual rates reach 91 per cent) to seize capital and redistribute wealth are not only "economic folly," the NAM says, but they miss the mark.

"The fundamental effect of excessive rates of income tax is to prevent the accumulation of wealth, and not to redistribute," the study explains.

Infringes Rights
Tax rates designed to close the gap between income and current expenditures are the means of prohibiting to current producers the opportunity of building substantial capital out of current income, the NAM says, and "such taxation seriously infringes the right of free men to acquire and own property through their own efforts. It discriminates against all who would build for the future."

The final evil of taxation which confiscates potential savings, regardless of who does the direct paying, the association says, "is that the burden will fall upon the population and the nation as a whole."

Tide of Socialism

This has been witnessed in country after country during the tide of socialism which has swept the world in the past 40 years, the study observes, adding that "many of these countries are now turning back toward saner levels of tax rates". Restating its plan for income tax reduction to a top rate of 35 per cent for both the individual and corporate rates, over a period of five years, the NAM says that "rates are facts which are readily understandable by all."

The stakes are too high for you to gamble by working around machinery without guards, says a University of Illinois farm safety specialist.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of three sisters (nee Schilling) Lizzie Kollmann, Jan. 27, 1953; Lena Hupe, October 27, 1954; Emma Kollmann, June 4, 1955. Gone are the faces we loved so dear.

Silent are the voices we loved to hear;

Too far away for sight or speech, But not too far for thoughts to reach.

Sweet to remember them once here, absent now.

But just so dear.

BELOVED HUSBANDS

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend sincere thanks to my relatives and friends for the cards, letters, gifts and flowers sent to me while I was in the hospital and since convalescing at home. Especially, I wish to thank Pastor Hoeft for his visits and prayers.

The Robert Nelsons have a new daughter, Marilyn Audrey, who arrived Oct. 16 in the Englewood hospital in Chicago. Little Marilyn was premature, weighing only 3 lbs. 8 oz., and must necessarily remain in the hospital until she weighs 5 lbs. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Pettit of Kenderdell, Pa. are parents of a son, Tracy Lee, who was born Oct. 7. Mrs. Pettit is the former Marsha Callahan.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Jochum attended the "Merry Oh-H-H" at the Civic Opera Oct. 27. This was an extravaganza on the new Oldsmobile.

The 16 Brownies or troop 239 under the leadership of Mrs. Eugene Anderson, went on a Hobo hike Oct. 18. Dressed as hobos, the girls visited six homes for handouts, such as carrot sticks, celery, hardboiled eggs, sandwiches and cupcakes. The last stop was made at the home of Mrs. Robert Rich, co-leader, where they devoured their haul to the accompaniment of cocoa. They had a wonderful time and are eager for the next hike.

Troop 239 now has its full quota of Brownies: Linda Andersen and Gail Rockrohr were invested Oct. 11, and on Oct. 25 the following will be invested: Cynthia Shaw, Janice Lundberg, Jere Lou Doll and Betsy Schooley.

Add to Seasonal Diseases Now in Virulent Stage -- "Squirrelitis"

ROBERTS MANN
Conservation Editor

"Squirrelitis" is a common contagious disease in many parts of the country. It seems to affect lazy people more than others and the only cure is to go squirrel hunting. Farmers have it during the sultry dog days of August and early September when the hired man stops whistling, the mules' ears droop, and the creek dries up almost to a trickle. In small towns the menfolk seem to catch it about the time when the leaves need raking or their wives start to nag about taking down the screens, putting up storm windows, and other foolish things.

Every fall, hunters shoot far more squirrels than pheasants, quail and doves. Only the cottontail rabbit is hunted by more people, and only the rabbits, deer and waterfowl are hunted over more of the North American continent. The squirrel is Game Species No. 2. Fried squirrel is mighty good eating and squirrel hunting in a sportsman-like way—where a hunter pits his woodcraft and marksmanship against the wily tricks of the wary "bushytails"—is an understandably popular pastime.

Shotguns are Taboo
It has been a good many years since we hunted any wild animal with a gun. It is unlawful in our forest preserves but, anywhere, we prefer binoculars or a camera. Nevertheless, some of our most enjoyable experiences and most valuable lessons in nature lore occurred long ago when it was too wet to do any farm work and grandpa, right after a 5 a. m. breakfast, would take his long rifle down from its rack and head for the Crooked Creek bottomlands. He wore moccasins; we wore barefoot. Down in the tall timber we would squat on a log and wait, motionless and silent. It's surprising what you see thataway—how many wild creatures decide that it is safe to go on about their business.

But if a squirrel moved, or grandpa spotted one watching us, that rifle came up very slowly, cracked and down he tumbled.

Postoffice Urges Early Mailing of Overseas Parcels
"It's time to start those Overseas Christmas Mailings" the post office warned today, launching their 1955 Mail Early for Christmas campaign.

The public can be reasonably assured that parcels mailed thru regular surface channels prior to Nov. 15 will reach their destinations before Christmas. It is now only about 18 days from closing date for Overseas mailings. Parcels for Navy and Marine Corps personnel serving in remote areas should be mailed now. Postmaster Brown warns.

Overseas parcels should be well wrapped in strong containers, tied securely with heavy cord, addresses should be indelible pencil or waterproof ink. Return address should always be placed on parcels.

Address labels should not be used as they may become lost from parcel. The address should be written directly on cover of article. Enclose address on inside of parcel also. See your local postoffice for articles that cannot be sent overseas. Certain APO and FPO numbers will need customs declarations. This information may be secured at local post office.

Girl Scouts Ask Dads, Brothers to Help Ready Camp

Girl Scout dads and big brothers are invited to come to Channa-Chalet, McKinley Woods near Channahon Saturday, Oct. 29, between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. to lend a hand in readying a cabin for the girls to use for troop camping.

Among the jobs to be done are some repairing of floors and stairs, roller painting of the walls, and some winterizing of the plumbing. The men can bring their families and enjoy the woods at the same time. Saws, hammers, roller paint sets and plumbing tools would be a help, also.

Several Mokena troops have been to Channa-Chalet according to Mrs. Rudolph Engelhardt, local neighborhood chairman, from whom further information can be had by telephoning her at Mokena 3761.

Community Chest Is Oversubscribed

The Joliet-Will county community chest campaign was oversubscribed for the 13th consecutive year. The quota this year was $248,000 and the teams made their final reports Monday night some $258,000 had been pledged.

William Blaha and Ray Westlund, co-chairmen of the drive in Mokena, and Charles Carnahan, chairman in New Lenox, expressed their appreciation of the efforts put in by the canvassers and the contributions by the public.

Annual "Fun and Fair" to be Held in Frankfort School

The public school in Frankfort each year sponsor a Fun and Fair party in the school which has now become a traditional affair. It will be held this year on Friday night, Oct. 28 starting at 7:30 o'clock.

This is the occasion when the pupils of the school bring their hobbies, pets, and are decked out in fantastic costumes, and line up in the parade which takes place in the school gymnasium. This always proves to be attractive and draws a large attendance from the residents of the village and elsewhere. Prizes are given and everybody has a good time.

Handle feeder cattle or sheep carefully during shipping to your lots, or shipping fever may take all the profit before you even start to feed the animals.

led—neatly drilled thru the head. Once, when a squirrel was lying flat on a horizontal limb, grandpa "barked" him in true pioneer fashion: the bullet went thru the bark of the limb and, stunned by the concussion, down he came without a mark on him. A simon pure squirrel hunter scorns to use a shotgun, which he calls a "scattergun" not only because it inflicts too many wounds on the body of the animal but because so many are cruelly crippled by the pellets and crawl away to die.

Have to be Smarter
Some people hunt in pairs or singly with a dog. If one man sits motionless or, as they steal silently thru the timber, "freezes" while the other man walks on, a squirrel will move around a tree and become an easy target for the sifter. A trained dog, usually a feist, will cruise thru the woodland picking up the scent of a squirrel that has been on the ground, and bark madly at the base of the tree where it took refuge. The squirrel, watching the dog, forgets to watch the man.

We will be criticized by some nature lovers for writing this bulletin but squirrel hunting may be actually a conservation measure in some localities and certain years. Squirrel populations, like those of many other wild animals, seem to rise and fall in cycles. When they are too abundant, a n d overcrowded squirrels have epidemics of diseases which kill or weaken them and, if there happens to be a scarcity of nuts and acorns, many die of starvation during a severe winter. In pioneer days, when eastern North America was one vast forest, some years there were migrations, southerly or easterly, of hundreds of thousands of gray squirrels that even swam across big rivers such as the Ohio. What a sight that must have been!

A soil test is worthless unless it has been finely calibrated in terms of crop response by carefully conducted field experiments and unless the values are correctly interpreted.

Half a dozen Illinois farmers are injured in elevator accidents each year.

Drive-In Has New Proprietor

The Lincolnwood Drive-In has changed hands. The new operator is Laverne Larson, who also runs the A-Aces, a restaurant at the intersection of routes 30 and 45.

Larson, it was stated, has leased the entire premises. Owner of the property is Robert Fredin, of New Lenox.

The new proprietor was formerly manager of famed Henric's restaurant in Chicago. He took over Lincolnwood Drive-In last week and announced that he will cater to parties and organizations and will also serve regular meals in addition to steaks, chops, chicken and sandwiches.

The place will be in operation seven days a week from 7 a. m. to midnight on week days and 10:30 a. m. to midnight on Sundays.

Lincolnwood Drive-In formerly was operated by Wally and Tony Ritt. The Ritts were the first operators, moving in as soon as the building was completed.

No Limits To Illinois Drunken Driving Statute

Recent action by his office today prompted Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter to point out to Illinois motorists that they are subject to the Illinois drivers license law when driving out of this state.

In the last announcement of revocations by Secretary Carpenter, it was revealed that two Illinois drivers lost their licenses for driving while intoxicated out of the state of Illinois.

"The law states," said Secretary Carpenter, "that the Secretary of State is authorized to suspend or revoke the license of a driver who has been lawfully convicted of an offense in another state which if committed within this State would be grounds for suspension or revocation."

Self-Portrait

Lesson for October 30, 1955

THERE are people who don't care how they look to other people; they have no particular long-range plans or pattern of life, they live (as they might say) by ear. We call such persons extroverts; they never stop, so to speak, long enough to look into a mirror. There is an opposite kind of person who is painfully interested in himself. He is forever looking into a mirror, as it were. He makes the most careful and detailed plans and is quite upset when a detail goes wrong. We call such persons introverts. In between these types is a more balanced sort of person. If one could "type" Jesus of Nazareth he would be the balanced sort, by all means. He was self-conscious enough to know and care what he was doing, but not in the least self-centered.

Dr. Foreman

Jesus once had the opportunity, which to some young people is a rather frightening thrill, of speaking to a crowded audience in his own home town. He knew what was in nearly everybody's mind: "Give an account of yourself. Who do you think you are and what do you think you are doing?" To them he was just a home-town boy; but they had heard of strange things he had said and done, and they wanted to hear him talk.

So he had the opportunity on a Sabbath Day of speaking in the synagogue. As he read the Scripture for the day, from Isaiah 61, Jesus stopped in the middle of a sentence, and sitting down (as teachers did in those days) he said, "Today this Scripture has been fulfilled. . . ."

In other words, as Americans would put it. This is it. This is my plan of life. This prophecy, hundreds of years old, describes what I am and what I am doing. In short, Jesus took this prophecy to himself, as a self-portrait. It is more like a motion picture than a still picture; it expresses what he was, in terms of what he did.

For Others
That, by the way, is typical of the Bible way of describing people. Adjectives like "good," "merciful," "truthful," always have verbs behind them. Adjectives describe actions. A man does not have one kind of character and another kind of action. His actions are his character, not his external actions alone, but together with the motives and intentions which are a true part of every act. Now Jesus describes himself and his plan for life not only in terms of action, but of action in relation to other persons. John Wesley says somewhere that when Christianity ceases to be social it is not any longer Christian. The idea that any one can become a higher type of Christian by retiring permanently from the world, devoted exclusively to prayer and contemplation, is a notion not derived from Jesus.

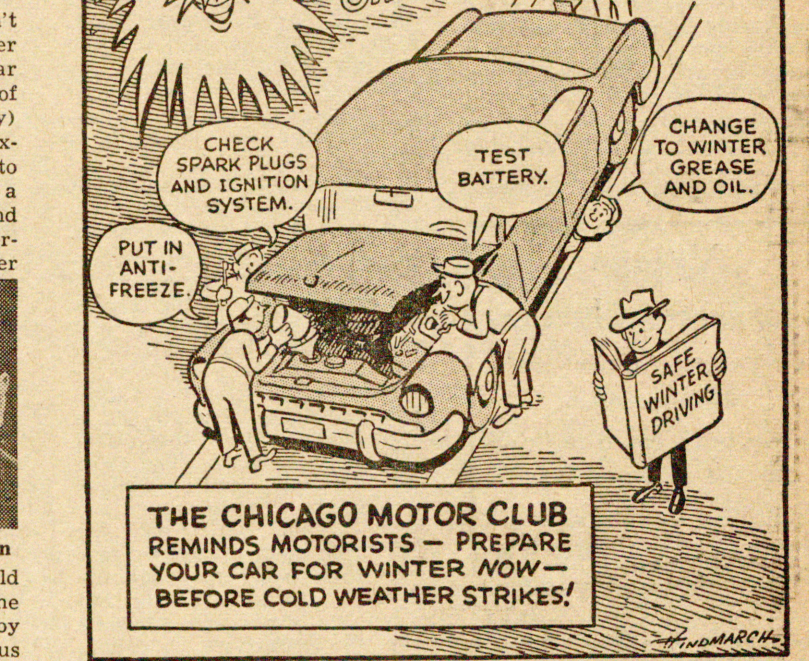

For him, the meaning of life is in contact with other persons. . . . But note the sort of person Jesus mentions: the poor, the captives, the blind, the bruised . . . the very people so many of us avoid. Most people jump at the chance to get their pictures taken with famous people. Jesus' self-portrait was a picture of him with obscure people, people in trouble. What would happen in a community if every church member became more interested in doing something for people than in "doing" people?

For All Others
What really enraged those churchgoers of Nazareth was not that Jesus was dedicated to helping others. That was fine, they were all in favor of it. The thing that raised them to murder-heat was that he drew no lines. He was for helping one and all, yes even Gentiles. What Jews of that day thought of Gentiles is expressed in a passage from a popular book written about the same time as the New Testament: "For our sakes you (God) made this first-born world. But as for the rest of the nations which are sprung from Adam, you have said they are nothing and are like spit." (II Esdras 6:36). So when Jesus made it clear that he (like Elijah and Elisha before him) would draw no race or national lines, that he intended to carry God's love to the last and least of men, these race-proud Nazarenes threatened to lynch him.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF TINLEY PARK, ILLINOIS:

Section 1. Definitions. The term "dangerous building" as used in this ordinance, is hereby defined to mean and include (a) any building, shed, fence, or other man-made structure which is dangerous to the public health because of its construction or condition, or which may cause or aid in the spread of disease or cause injury to the health of the occupants of it or of neighboring structures; (b) any building, shed, fence, or other man-made structure which, because of faulty construction, age, lack of proper repair or any other cause, is especially liable to fire, and constitutes or creates a fire hazard; (c) any building, shed, fence, or other man-made structure which, by reason of faulty construction, age, lack of proper repair or any other cause, is liable to cause injury or damage by collapsing or by a collapse or fall of any part of such a structure; (d) any building, shed, fence or other man-made structure which, because of its condition or because of lack of doors or windows is available to and frequented by malefactors or disorderly persons who are not lawful occupants of such structure.

Section 2. Any such dangerous building in the village is hereby declared to be a nuisance.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful to maintain or permit the existence of any dangerous building in the village, and it shall be unlawful for the owner, occupant, or person in custody of any dangerous building to permit the same to remain in a dangerous condition or to occupy such building or permit it to be occupied while it is or remains in a dangerous condition.

Section 4. Abatement. Whenever the building inspector, the fire marshal, the health inspector or any other officer or employee of the village shall be of the opinion that any building or structure in the village is a dangerous building, he shall file a written statement to this effect with the village clerk. The clerk shall thereupon cause written notice to be served upon the owner thereof, and upon the occupant thereof, if any, by registered mail or by personal service. Such notice shall state that the building has been declared to be in dangerous condition, and that such dangerous condition must be removed or remedied by repairing or altering the building or by demolishing it; and that the condition must be remedied at once. Such notice may be in the following form:

"To _____ (owner-occupant of the premises) of the premises known and described as _____ "You are hereby notified that (described building) on the premises above described has been condemned as a nuisance and a dangerous building after inspection by _____

"The causes for this decision are (here insert the facts as to the dangerous condition.) You must remedy this condition or demolish the building immediately, or the village will proceed to do so."

If the person receiving such notice has not complied therewith within ten days from the time when this notice is served upon such person by personal service or by registered mail, the _____ may, upon orders of the Village President proceed to remedy the condition or demolish the dangerous building.

Section 5. Fire limits. Any building or structure within the fire limits of the village as hereinafter prescribed by ordinance which has or may be damaged by fire, decay, or other cause to the extent of fifty per cent (50%) of its value, shall be torn down and removed.

Upon written notice by the building inspector, health commissioner, fire marshal, or other village employee filed with the village clerk, the clerk shall notify the village president of the receipt of such notice. The village president shall then appoint three (3) persons to determine whether or not such building or structure has been damaged to the extent of fifty per cent (50%) of its value. A copy of the notice filed by the village officer, together with a notice of the appointment of this board of three (3) persons to determine the damage, shall be served upon the owner of the premises by personal service or by registered mail to his last known address.

Such notice may be in substantially the following form:

"You are hereby notified that _____ has been determined that the building owned by you at _____ located within the fire limits of the village has been damaged by fire, decay or otherwise to the extent of fifty per cent (50%) of its value; and that a board of three (3) members has been appointed to verify this finding, which board will hold its first meeting in the village hall on the _____ day of _____ 19____ at the hour of _____ o'clock _____ M. at which time it will determine whether this finding is correct.

"If this finding is verified by the board, you must tear down and remove the said building."

If the said board of three (3) members determines that the building in question has been damaged to the extent of fifty per cent (50%) of its value, it shall be the duty of the owner to tear down or remove the said building within twenty (20) days after the finding of the board; and it shall be unlawful to occupy or permit such building to be occupied after such finding.

Section 6. Penalty. Any person, firm, or corporation violating any provision of this ordinance, or permitting any dangerous building, or any building or structure to remain in a dangerous condition, or to remain in the fire limits after it has been damaged to the extent of fifty per cent (50%) of its value, shall be fined not less than One dollar ($1.00) nor more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) for each offense; and a separate offense shall be deemed committed on each day during or on which the violation occurs or continues.

Section 7. Unknown Owners. If the owner of the premises concerned is unknown, or if his address is unknown, service of any notice provided for in this ordinance may be made by posting a copy thereof on the premises and by publishing one time a copy thereof in a newspaper published within the municipality.

Section 8. Alternative Action. In addition to the actions authorized by other sections of this ordinance, the fire marshal, chief of the fire department or any other municipal official whose duty it is to investigate fires, may make the investigations authorized by the statute found in Illinois General Statutes, Chapter 127½, Paragraphs 9 to 14. If such officer shall find that any building or structure is so occupied or situated as to endanger persons or property, or by reason of faulty construction, age, lack of repair or for any other cause is especially liable to fire, or is liable to cause injury by collapsing or otherwise, he shall order the dangerous condition removed or remedied, and shall so notify the owner or occupant of the premises. Service of such notice may be in person or by registered mail, and any person so notified may appeal from the decision of such officer in the manner provided by law.

REPAIR HIGHWAYS

The state highway department has been quite busy in the Mokena-New Lenox area resurfacing sections of U. S. Rt. 30 and Wolf road, with blacktop. Work on Wolf road has been completed and it included the removal of a bump in the pavement near the junction with Rt. 30. Almost half a mile of resurfacing has been begun just east of Lincoln-Way high school on Rt. 30, and a section of the highway in New Lenox was recovered.

Orland Legion Plans Junior Baseball Teams

While there is a lot of snow, ice and thaws between now and the next baseball season, Orland Park post of the American Legion is already making plans to get two teams started in Junior Legion ball next spring and summer.

This is an ambitious program, it was pointed out, when the size of the post and the area it serves is considered but the members are confident that with cooperation from the public they can do it.

The post's activities cover approximately the Carl Sandburg high school district and the plans call for one team from Palos township and the other from Orland township.

John E. Barton who is in charge of the committee, says the big problem will be the building of a ball diamond.

An effort will be made to persuade the Cook county forest preserve district to aid with this phase of the program.

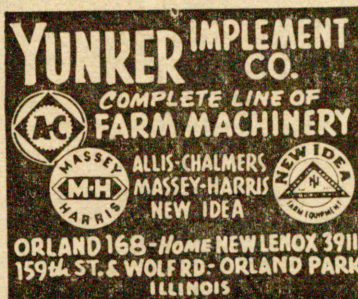

"The forest preserve district has land and money," Barton pointed out, "and we believe that some of that land and money can be transformed into a ball diamond. It would be a wonderful investment in our boys."

The American Legion started the Junior Legion baseball program more than 25 years ago as a means of giving the youth of the land opportunity for recreation. Some of those who started playing ball in the Junior Legion program went on to major league careers—Phil Cavarretta was one of these, to give an example.

The Junior Legion baseball project, Barton pointed out, is American democracy in action.

The Orland Park Legion post is eager to have aid in its undertaking. Equipment must be purchased and transportation provided for away-from-home games, and there will be other expenses too. Persons interested who will aid in the undertaking are asked by Barton to call him or drop him a card and they will be notified when the next baseball meeting is held.

If all of the Savings Bonds now held by individuals were divided evenly among Americans every man, woman, and child would get about $312.50 worth. Do you have your share?

Sandburg Varsity Blanks L-W, 13-0 Frosh-Soph Tie

The two Sandburg football teams played their best games of the year as the varsity outclassed the Lincoln-Way team in posting a 13-0 triumph while the Frosh-Soph team settled for a 12-12 tie when the try for extra point was called back by a holding penalty.

In the varsity game, Sandburg scored the first time they had the ball as Anderson broke over the left side of the line and went 40 yards for a touchdown without a hand being laid on him. The extra point was added on a burst thru the middle of the line by Borre. In the final half, the Eagles clinched the victory with a second touchdown as Anderson plunged over left guard from two yards out and the try for extra point was missed. The hard charging of the line on both offense and defense was particularly outstanding. For the first time this year Sandburg backs bulled and ploughed their way thru an enemy line. Downfield blocking, missing in most other games, was improved.

The Frosh-Soph team scored for the first time this year when Graninger took a punt and ran 80 yards behind excellent blocking to score. Tennessee Parks scored the last Sandburg touchdown on a 35 yard end run. The attempt to run the extra point was successful but a Sandburg lineman was detected holding and the play was nullified. Despite being held to a tie, the Frosh-Sophs was said to have outplayed the Lincoln-Way team.

Saturday, Oct. 29, the Morgan Park Military academy will face Sandburg in a doubleheader football feature beginning at 1:30. Both games will be played on the Sandburg field at 133rd and LaGrange road.

Braves Swamp Evergreens, 47-0 Record Is Clear

Coach Larry Callan's Bremen Braves swamped a stubborn but outclassed Evergreen Park eleven 47-0 last Friday, to remain undefeated in Southwest Suburban conference play.

On the third play from scrimmage, Rich Hopman scampered 20 yards around right end to give the Braves a 6-0 first period lead. Frank Warszalek counted the point after touchdown.

Crashing the final six yards to paydirt, George Stelmach climaxed a 65 yard downfield march in the second stanza. Bremen's lead was increased to 14-0 at half time as Bill Lindsay tallied the extra point.

In the third quarter, the Braves' offense opened wide the throttle and chossed the Mustang goal line on four different occasions. Lindsay scored two TD's while teammates Frank Warszalek and Stelmach added one each.

A 70 yard run by Stelmach in the final frame ended the Bremen scoring for the afternoon.

Only two points have been scored against the Bremen forward wall in its last five contests while the offense has piled up 164 points.

Bremen clashes with the Reavis Rams in a conference tilt tomorrow, Oct. 28, on the home field.

Bremen 7 7 27 6

L-W Again Wins 'Country Mile'

Sandburg cross country runners were trounced again by Lincoln-Way. The week previous, at Sandburg, Lincoln-Way won by one point 27 to 28 — due principally to the fact that it scored one-two at the finish, but in the meeting between the two teams at Lincoln-Way last week the Sandburgs were overwhelmingly beaten, the score being Lincoln-Way 19, and the visitors 37.

In cross country running the team with the lowest score is the winner. The count is made according to the finish. The runner who comes in first gets one point, second place man two points and so on.

In the competition last week — Thursday afternoon it was — Lincoln-Way spreadeagled the field. The first four runners to finish were of the host team, and the first two, Mark Schellenberg and Laverne Mark, finished in the reverse order the week previous, when Mark was first and Schellenberg second.

Schellenberg traversed the 1.8-mile course in 8 minutes and 11 seconds and Mark in 8:17. This was much faster time than was displayed at the previous meeting. At that time Mark covered the distance in 10 minutes and one second and Schellenberg's time was 10 minutes two seconds.

The order of finish for the other contestants in last Thursday's cross country run and their time, follows:

Stanley Brune (L-W) 8:24;
Jerry Collins (L-W) 8:27; Pierce (S) 8:37; Sandrace (S) 8:39;

Sports News

by JACK MAYPOLE

Are you one of the fishermen who fish by the calendar? By that I mean that for you fishing starts on a certain day and, on another day, it ends. If it does, man, you're missing something.

Although a lot of us have returned to the old grind there still are weekends available and, for the man who really likes to fish, there is another deal—night fishing.

If you've never tried it you are in for a new thrill because you are going to learn to fish by judgement and feel with sight reduced to a minimum.

Before you go make sure to see your sports dealer for some large, friction type lures. Fish aren't too particular after dark and part of the trick is getting attention. While at the dealer's check around a bit because he's sure to have a lot of fishing tackle at low prices.

If you are near restricted waters take the trusty rowboat and oars. Make sure you have a small hand searchlight or a big flashlight. If you plan really getting about and are lucky enough to own an outboard motor, remember your lights. A boat less than 16 feet long has a bright white light mounted on the stern and visible around the horizon for at least two miles. It must have forward a combination light showing green to starboard and red to port to two points abaft the beam visible at least a mile.

Best places to fish are along shorelines or weed areas. You will have fun trying to estimate your casts at first. You'll probably hook a few snags. When a fish strikes you won't be able to watch the line and will have to set the hook by touch. A good idea is to yank when there is any sort of disturbance near your lure.

Even if you don't land a lot of fish to start you'll open a new field on interest just learning how to get about in a boat at night. You will learn to see in the dark by scanning the water from side-to-side and not staring straight ahead. Keep bright lights out of your eyes and keep the night lights covered. You'll enter a new phase of the sport world, and unless I'm greatly mistaken, you'll love it. Almost forgot—Make sure you wear warm but loose clothing. (Hear Jack Maypole over WJJD at 8:25 a.m. Monday thru Friday.)

Hats, Horns - Fun For All

Lincoln-Way Math Club, care of Mrs. Hussey, Lincoln-Way Community High School, New Lenox, Illinois. Now, on to the problems of this week.
1. A poor little bookworm is in a fix. He knows "where to" but he doesn't know "how far". Right now he is on the title page of Volume 11. If each book cover is one quarter inch thick and the pages cover two full inches in each volume, how far is he going to travel when the books are in order?
2. This should be a lot of fun! Try arranging these numbers -- 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0 in order so that their sum is 100.
Winners will be listed in this column next week. At the end of the year a top winner will be picked according to the quality and quantity of his solutions. Sharpen your pencils and get busy.

Directory Goes On Sale
The Phi-Chem Association's "Little Red Book" was put on sale Monday. It is a complete directory giving the names, addresses, and phone numbers of every student, faculty member, and employee of Lincoln-Way. In examining the names one wonders what has happened to the well-known names that people often joke about. They're all but lacking at Lincoln-Way. Only one Brown, two Joneses and a Smith are enrolled. The surname held by more students than any other is Anderson. There are eight of them listed, representing six families and hailing from three towns. Six students bear the name Johnson, making it the second most common name. Other family names which occur frequently are Batson, Delaney, Miller, and Yunker with four students claiming each.

Cook Foreign Foods
The Homemaking 111 classes have been experimenting lately in the art of foreign cookery. Delicious odors coming from Room 110 have been assaulting the noses of passers-by. Some of the foreign concoctions they

Footlighters
The Lincoln-Way Footlighters will present a play fest at the school Nov. 4 and 5. The dramatic organization which gave such a fine performance last year is rehearsing for another this fall. Instead of making the circuit to the different towns, this year we'll see them at the same location for two nights at the high school.
Three one-act plays are on the bill: "The Great Western Melodrama," "The Man in the Bowler Hat," and "Ringing in the Gloom".
Watch for more news of the play. November 4 and 5, remember the dates.

G. A. A. Playday
Saturday, October 15th Karen Miller, Pat Boleman, Marilyn Boleman, and Donna Hussey, accompanied by Mrs. Della Hussey drove to the Lyons Township High School for a G. A. A. playday, beginning at 9:30 in the morning.
Upon their arrival they were met by a reception committee and given "dizzy" characters by which method the girls were grouped for team sports. These sports included basketball, volleyball, line soccer, and delays. Each team received three points for a win and one point for a loss during the day's events. First, second, and third place prizes were awarded to the have made are Mexican enchiladas, Russian tea, canapes, chop suey, and Italian spaghetti, which of course is a favorite of nearly everyone. The girls are also compiling a scrapbook which will include foreign menus and recipes.

Spanish Club Election
Members of Los Campeones, the Spanish club at Lincoln-Way have selected their officers for the current year. The students elected are: Pat Boleman, president; Ron Studnicki, vice president; Anita McMahon, secretary; and Ron Knakmuhs, treasurer. Miss Theresa Hartman is the sponsor.

A committee has also been appointed to work on a doll display. Dolls are to be dressed in the costumes of various Spanish speaking countries. The members of this committee are Jane Oram, Judy Feil, Gailyn McCoy and Geri Smego.

The time not spent in business at the recent meeting was spent in playing rhythms in Spanish.

FHA Initiates New Members
The FHA chapter of Lincoln-Way held their social meeting of the month in room 110 on Tuesday, October 11. It was held as a formal initiation for all new members and as an introduction of the new chapter mothers to the girls.

The new chapter mothers are Mrs. Hockberger and Mrs. Wade. Cookies and punch were served to the group by JoAnn Mundi, Penny Spiewak, Sharon Nelson and Sheila Bennett.

FFA Takes Trip
The Ag 11 class Wednesday took a short trip to a farm near Peotone. At the farm the boys were greeted by FFA boys from Chicago Heights, Peotone, Crete-Monee, and Beecher as well as authorities of the U. S. Department of Conservation. The visitors were divided into four groups and taken in turn to four different stations. At No. 1 they were shown how to map land. At No. 2 they learned how to judge the soil and to determine the depth of top soil. No. 3 was set up to teach the use of an eye leveler in figuring the percentage of slope on a hill. At No. 4 the future farmers were taught how to use an eye leveler in laying a contour on the farm. The man told them that they could use a terrace instead if desired.

Completes Plane
The Fireball, the model plane which has been under construction, is completed except for the final painting. It is to be red and black. On Sunday, October 30 at 2 o'clock the plane will make its maiden flight. All members who own planes may bring them on that day and make use of the clubs equipment. Anyone else, though not a club member, is welcome to bring planes as well but will not be permitted to use the equipment belonging to the club.

teams with the highest total of points.
A lunch was served consisting of potato salad, hot dogs, carrot sticks, a peach, milk, and ice cream. A movie of the Lyons G. A. A., used to orient new members was shown. It pictured the various activities of their G. A. A. Activities being over for the day, the girls departed about 1:30 p. m. to start their trip home.

Potential Purse or Shoes
During the past week an eleven inch alligator has come to make his home in the biology room. The specimen was given to the school by Mr. Howard Jackson of Orland Park. Later the midget monster found himself in the custody of Mr. Ellermann.

Our reporter, sent to interview the beast, came back with some disturbing news. We quote him:

"Now I don't want to shock or frighten you, but I've found that these ravenous reptiles grow and eat very fast. Of course, the bigger they grow, the more they eat. And the more they eat, the faster they grow. Some of these beastly babies grow to be ten or fifteen feet long. Think of it, friends! We may soon have to go into the biology room armed. This dynamo could turn out to be another Frankenstein."

The creature is unnamed as yet. Any suggestions as to a name for this future terribly terrifying ten ton tank on legs will be accepted by Mr. Ellermann.

Business Teacher at Conference
Miss Arlene Rittenhouse of the Lincoln-Way faculty was among the business education teachers from the combined Champaign-Urbana and Bloomington-Normal areas who met Oct. 15, at Bloomington high school for a fall conference devoted to the business education curriculum.

The group discussed the May 1955 Illinois state board of vocational education bulletin, relating to business education departments. Teachers reported and discussed curriculum patterns in their particular schools and methods and materials they had used or were using. High schools, junior high schools, adult classes, and colleges were represented. John Beaumont state board of vocational education, was present for the discussion. Also present were representatives of two publishing companies, and various colleges and universities.

Talks To FBLA
Miss Lucille M. McGrath, acting manager of the Illinois state employment service, appeared before the FBLA group Thursday, Oct. 20.

She told of the various job opportunities available to the students of this area. Jobs are now open for boys and young men who know shorthand and typing. The starting salary is between $100 and $125.

Miss McGrath gave the students tips on getting and holding a job. Some of the points were to know what to look for in a job, to write a letter of application and to know what should be expected from the job.

After her talk there was a discussion period during which many questions were asked.

Projectionists Meet
The board of directors of the Projectionists club met recently to make student assignments for every period. The new freshmen members are to be trained immediately for operating the audio visual equipment in the class room.

At the clubs second meeting John Fish gave an explanation on the operation and parts of the RCA 400 sound movie projector to the new members. Two other projectors, the opaque and the filmstrip, were also demonstrated.

Museum Invites Public To View Prize Slides

Some of the best color photographs from all over the United States and from 20 foreign countries will be projected in the free, public showing of the 11th Chicago International color slide exhibit. Three opportunities to see these slides will be available at the Museum of Science and Industry on Oct. 30 and November 5 and 6 at 2:30 p.m.

From a total of 4,068 color slides entered in this salon, what proportions to be the 900 best have been selected by judges Rachel M. Osgood APSA, Earl E. Krause APSA, and Harry M. Callahan.

The presentation will have a musical background, with the reading of titles, and is always well attended by local amateurs and others interested in photography. The Chicago International is probably the largest in the world and represents work of some of the world's best amateur and professional photographers. This year, according to Ruth V. Welty, chairman of the exhibit, there was a total of 1,026 entries.

Presentation of 10 gold medal awards and 40 blue ribbons for honorable mention will take place at the Oct. 30 showing.

There will also be two sterling silver medals awarded by the color division of the Photographic Society of America for the slide best illustrating the use of color harmony and the best monochromatic color scheme.

Acts to Meet Need for More Science Teachers

To help offset the dangerous cutback in science teaching at the second level—a basic cause for the critical shortage of graduate scientists—Shell Companies Foundation, Inc., announces a broad program of recognition fellowships for high school teachers of science and mathematics.

Through the program, worked out with the cooperation of the leading educational associations, Shell will underwrite summer seminars at Stanford and Cornell universities for 60 teachers yearly. The fellowship recipients, chosen on the basis of merit and demonstrated leadership qualities, will receive travel allowances, all tuition and fees, living expenses on the university campus and $500 in cash to make up for the loss of potential summer earnings.

Basically, according to H. J. Underwood, division manager, the program seeks to inspire those science teachers who, in turn, can best inspire the scientists and science teachers of tomorrow.

Mr. Underwood explained that the program, to be known as the Shell Merit Fellowships for High School Science and Mathematics Teachers, was developed following the studies that showed a rapid decline in the number of college graduates entering the field of science teaching.

Shortage Is Acute
 Last year, according to surveys, American colleges turned out 57 percent fewer high school science teachers and 51 percent fewer mathematics teachers than in 1950. Because of this acute science teacher shortage, Mr. Underwood added, more than half the high schools in the country now have no classes in physics or chemistry.

Since 1900, the percentage of students studying algebra in the high schools has fallen from 56 per cent to 24 per cent - geometry students have dropped from 27 per cent to 11 per cent. Today, only 4.3 per cent study physics -- as against 19 per cent some 55 years ago.

Mr. Underwood said there is no lack of young people with the intelligence to master college courses in science and mathematics, but not enough seem willing to make the effort. Shell hopes to stimulate greater interest in the neglected fields. "We hope the Merit Fellowships will assist in focusing public attention on this critical shortage of science teachers and also induce others to do something similar," he added.

Stanford and Cornell were selected by Shell because of their outstanding science and education departments and their active role in trying to remedy the acute shortage of high school science and mathematics teachers.

Lists Qualifications

Broader than any previous program advanced for science teachers, the fellowships are particularly designed for the able, experienced teachers who ordinarily might seek remunerative summer employment outside the school system. The intensive seminar programs will include graduate-level classes, lectures by outstanding scientists and visits to modern industrial installations and research laboratories.

Mathematics, physics or chemistry teachers with five years experience and known leadership ability will be eligible for the fellowships. Thirty teachers from west of the Mississippi will attend the eight-week Stanford program which will be administered by the school of education. Thirty from east of the Mississippi will be invited to a similar six-week series of courses at

Why George won't get much of a dinner tonight

Let an ELECTRIC Dryer do the work on washday

(Costs less to buy — yet you get the cleanest, fastest, dryest heat there is!)

Mrs. George O. has an automatic washer. But no dryer. Washday is still a lot of work. Not much of a dinner tonight.

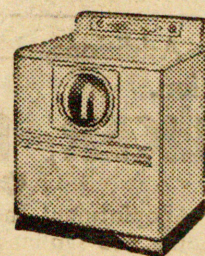

You can't blame the Mrs. for that, George. You could get her an automatic electric dryer—complete and installed for about $2.43 a week. (Less than you spend for papers and coffee!)

And as your wife knows, an electric dryer does more than save work. It's faster because electric heat is the dryest heat there is. The cleanest, too.

A few cents' worth of electricity will dry a lot of laundry, George. And everything comes out smelling sweet and fresh. Soft and fluffy, too. Not stiff and rough from hanging on the line.

Electric dryers cost less to buy, you know. And when you buy an electric you always get an automatic.

How about it, George? Isn't it about time you got her an automatic electric dryer? Your appliance dealer can give you details about our new money-saving Installation Plan. Honest, it won't break you.

Cornell. In addition to teachers, also eligible are present heads of departments of supervisors with degrees in chemistry or physics who good background in mathematics previously were teachers. Mr. Underwood explained that Shell is seeking to spread the recognition program as widely as possible among the nation's secondary schools. Final selection of the sixty will be the full responsibility of Stanford and Cornell.

In developing the plan, Shell consulted representatives of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, The National Association of Secondary School Principals, The National Research Council, The Joint Council on Economic Education and The National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

The fellowships are in addition to the Shell Companies foundation's present $350,000 aid-to-education program which includes fifty graduate fellowships and twenty grants in fundamental research in science and engineering at forty-one colleges and universities.

Name Professor To Aid Probe of "Paper Curtain"

A Northwestern university journalism professor has been appointed consultant to a congressional subcommittee which will investigate charges that the federal government is suppressing news of its operations.

He is Jacob Scher, associate professor in the Northwestern Medill school of journalism and editor of the "Freedom of Information News Digest" published by the National Editorial Association.

Scher will help the House subcommittee on government information to organize its investigation and to evaluate the testimony of editors, correspondents, and government aids. Hearings will begin Monday, Nov. 7, in Washington, D. C.

The subcommittee was formed as a result of charges by leading editors that executive directives issued by President Eisenhower and former President Truman have imposed a "paper curtain" which prevents full reporting of Washington news. The directives, issued in 1951 and 1953, set up security classifications on information coming from federal offices.

Chairman of the subcommittee, which is an arm of the House committee on government operations, is Rep. John E. Moss (D., Calif.). Other members are Rep. Dante Fascell (D., Fla.- and Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R., Mich.).

Scher was for many years a lawyer and newspaperman in Chicago before joining the Medill faculty in 1947. He is a member of the Illinois bar and is chairman of the Inland Daily Press Association's legal committee.

The "Freedom of Information News Digest" is circulated monthly to every daily and weekly newspaper in the United States to keep journalists abreast of events in "the continuing struggle for access to the news." Scher was named editor in March of 1955.

He resides at Highland Park.

Teaching of foreign languages in the elementary school will highlight the annual meeting of the Illinois Language Teachers association Nov. 5 of the Chicago undergraduate division of the University of Illinois.

The growing practice of beginning foreign languages in grade schools will be demonstrated by five classes. Chicago schools participating will be the Lloyd school with Dr. Sylvia Kay's German class, the Pickard school with Mrs. Gracia Battistoni's class in Italian, and the Francis Scott Key school with Miss Mary Archer's first grade Spanish class.

The movement to begin teaching foreign languages in the elementary schools started about 1950 and has spread to about 100 communities in nine states.

Other demonstration classes will be from the Eastern Illinois state college laboratory school at Charleston and the Rosary college summer demonstration school.

'Have A Heart' Tag Not Part Of Heart Fund Drive

It has been called to the attention of the Chicago Heart Association that many persons mistakenly believe when they buy a "Have A Heart" tag in September, they are contributing to the Heart Fund to fight heart disease.

The Chicago Heart association campaign is held annually during the month of February, and does not include a tag day. A major part of the collections are made on "Heart Sunday" in a canvass by volunteers. The next Heart Sunday is Feb. 26, 1956. Other campaign collections include corporate and special gifts, seal sales, Memorials and other tributes, special benefits, bequests, and in-plane contributions are received throughout the year.

The "Have A Heart" tag day is one of the five tag days authorized by the Chicago city council and it raises money for a group of charitable organizations unrelated to the Chicago Heart association, which was incorporated not for profit in 1922, thirty three years ago, and is a voluntary health agency dedicated to the sole purpose of fighting heart disease.

Hail State Farm Mutual Policy As 'Best Buy' In Auto Insurance

The mystery of the "best buy" in auto insurance, the tangled web that most motorists know little or nothing about, has been solved by the editorial research board of Car Life magazine, in an exclusive article appearing in the November issue. After two months of study and evaluation of 39 auto insurance companies by the national magazine's research team, the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance company of Bloomington, Ill., was awarded the Car Life magazine Seal of Merit Award for "the nation's best buy in auto insurance."

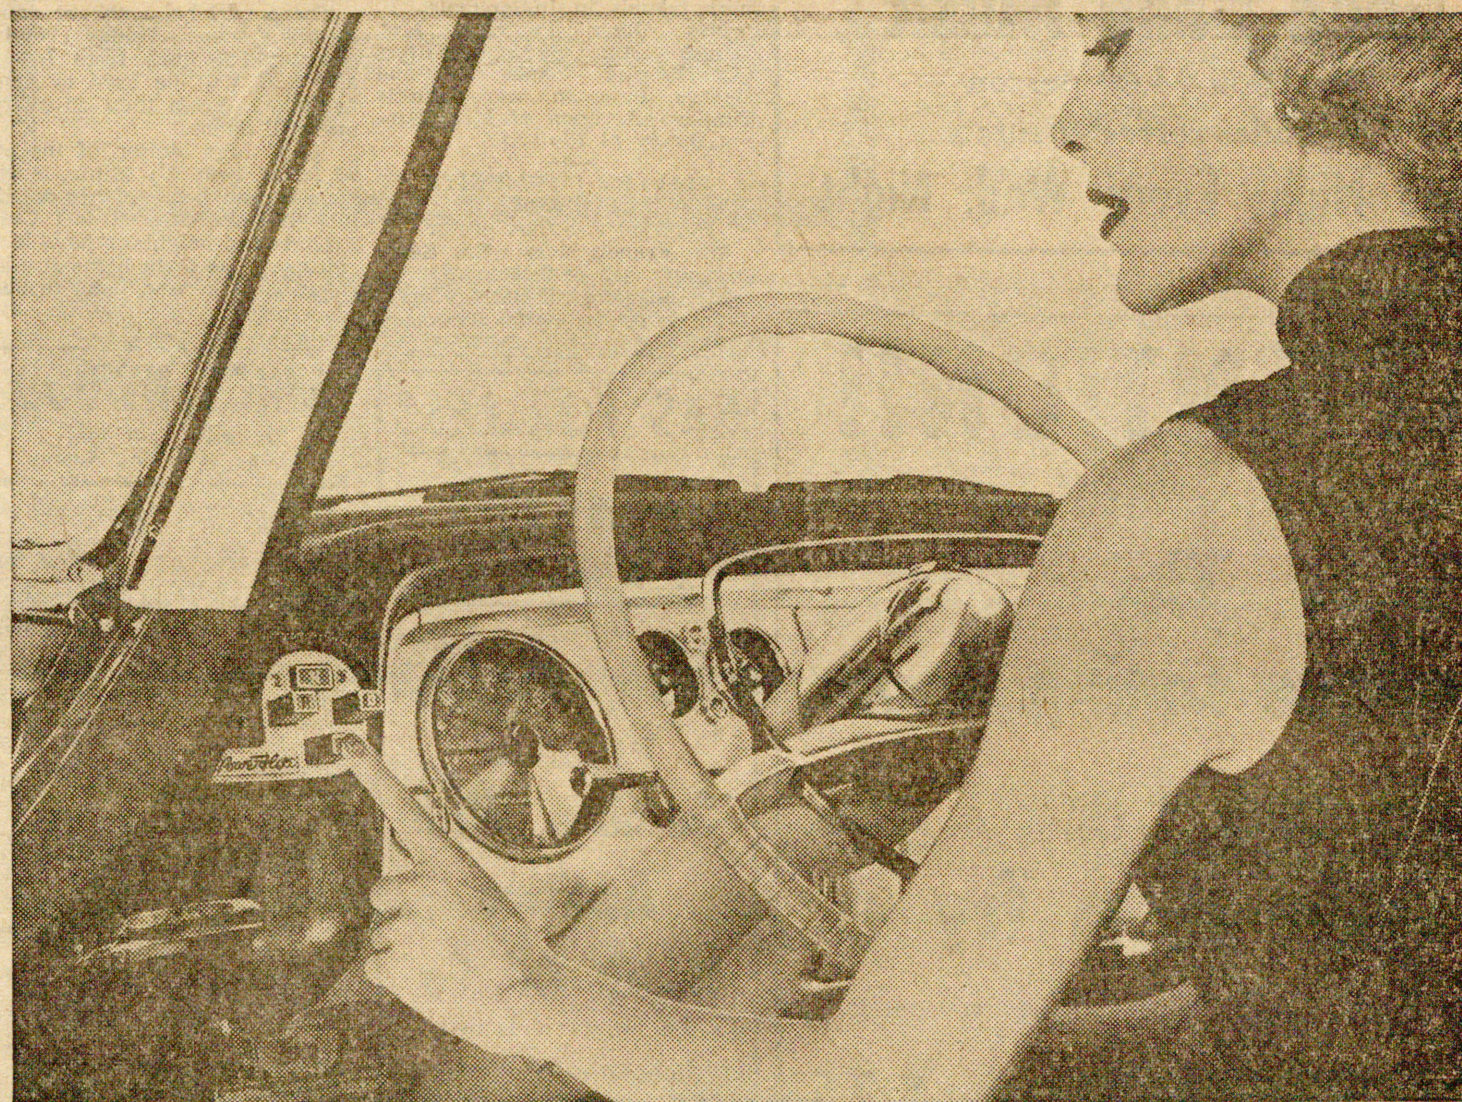

"When you are ready to buy your policy," Car Life found, "you need not shop for one that offers everything and a little extra. Today, all policies have standard provisions and most companies use the standard policy. But what you do need to consider is this: The kind and amount of protection your particular needs require. The cost of the policy and the reputation and stability of the company insuring you."

"However, these are by no means the only or most important factors to be taken into account in buying auto insurance," the magazine article continues. "What is important is what happens when you present your insurance company with a claim."

"Is the agent or representative easily reached? Is he cooperative? Does he represent you as well as the company? Will the company try to talk you out of your claim, or reduce it? Will you have to wait a long period for settlement? Will the company force you to go to court? In short, will your insurance policy do what it claims to do?"

Taking all these factors into consideration, the magazine editors found that State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance company compared better with the rigid code of specifications than any of the 39 auto insurance companies studied.

The company is represented in Mokena by George R. Krueger.
